

DEAVITA

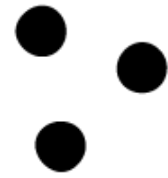

Teil 1

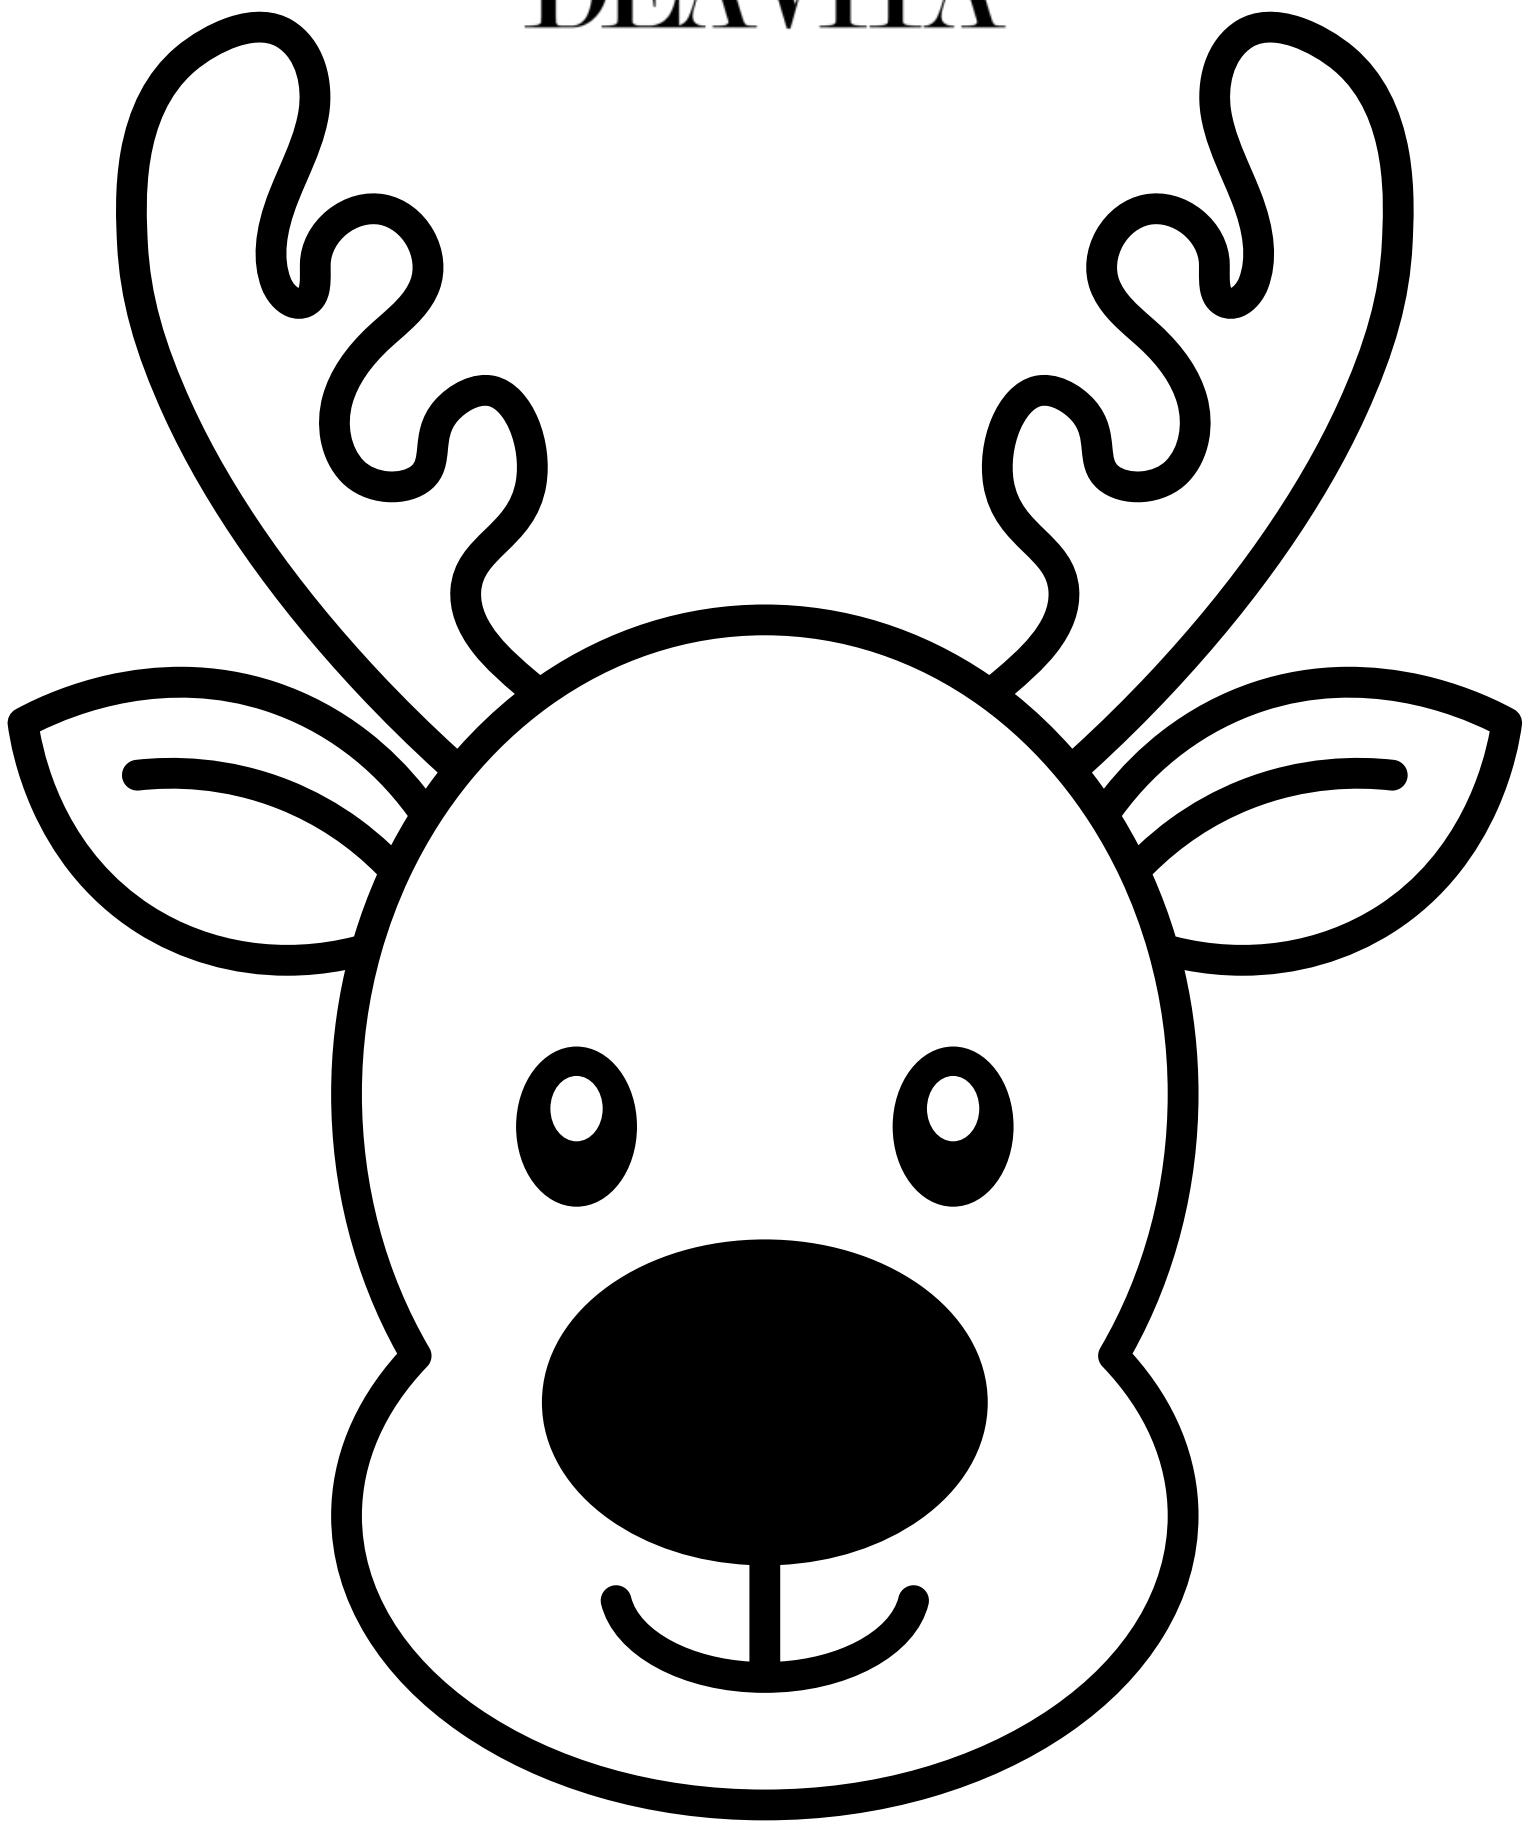

A stylized black and white illustration of a fish-like creature, possibly a koi, facing right. The fish has a large, detailed eye with a curved line for the pupil and iris. Its body is outlined with a thick black line, and it has a long, flowing tail. There are several circular patterns along the left side of the fish's body, resembling scales or bubbles. The background is white, and the overall style is minimalist and graphic.

The image features abstract black line art on a white background. Two main branches of lines curve across the frame. One branch starts in the upper left, curves right, and then splits into two smaller branches that curve upwards and to the right. The other branch starts in the lower left, curves right, and then splits into two smaller branches that curve upwards and to the right.
